"The Lego Movie 2: The Second Part" is super fun. It has all the Lego characters that you love. It even ends with a wedding in outer space!

"The Lego Movie" was the first film in the series. The new Lego movie is just as funny. The movie has a lot of exciting moments. It has many catchy songs. One of them is called "Catchy Song." It lives up to its name.

The movie is rated PG. It opened in movie theaters February 8. It is rated three out of four stars.

Invaders Attack Bricksburg And Our Heroes!

Mike Mitchell directed the movie. He also made the movie "Trolls." Emmet is voiced by Chris Pratt. Emmett still thinks "Everything Is Awesome." Everything really isn't. Invaders from Planet Duplo have destroyed Bricksburg. The place is now called Apocalypseburg. Emmet is as happy and good-hearted as ever. His friend Lucy is different. She says Emmet is not tough enough. Lucy is voiced by Elizabeth Banks.

A new outsider arrives in Apocalypseburg. She is from space. Her name is General Mayhem. She wants to take their leader. She is voiced by Stephanie Beatriz. General Mayhem does not take Emmet. Instead, she takes Lucy, Batman and others off to the Systar System.

Emmet goes to save Lucy in a spaceship.

Girl-Friendly And Action-Packed!

Emmet's friends land in the Systar System. Queen Watevra Wa'Nabi rules over the glittery world. The queen can change shapes. She is also looking for a husband.

This movie is not as different as the first "Lego Movie." There are fewer surprises. Still, it is full of jokes. It is also very girl-friendly.

That song "Everything Is Awesome" returns as well. But it's different. It sounds a little sadder. It takes some of the happiness out of the movie.

The movie says that everything might not be awesome. That's OK! Life is not always awesome. "The Lego Movie 2" is still fun and really enjoyable.
